- 1) The top straps go OVER the crossbar, or DOWN to the handlebar if you don't have a crossbar. The purpose of these straps is to provide front to back stability
- 2) the side straps go UP to the handlebar or the handguards. The purpose of these straps is to carry the weight of the bag on the handlebars.
- 3) the bottom straps go DOWN below the triple clamps, AROUND the fork tubes, and back UP. The purpose of these straps is to pull the bag down, countering the upward pull of the top and side straps.

Care of your Number Plate bag

- When you get the fender bag very muddy, take a second and use your finger to wipe the mud off the zipper before opening. This will help to keep the zipper from derailing.
- You can certainly use a power washer on your bag if you like.
- No other care needed.
